

University of Saskatchewan College of Law

TENURE TRACK FACULTY POSITIONS

The College of Law at the University of Saskatchewan seeks candidates for up to three tenure-track positions beginning 1 July 2010. We anticipate that these appointments will be at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor.

The College is particularly interested in candidates with an interest and expertise in Property Law, Business Law or Taxation Law.

Candidates will have completed, or be in the process of completing, a Master's or Doctoral degree in law or equivalent graduate qualification, and have demonstrated promise in legal scholarship. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply, but Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The College of Law has recently undergone a period of renewal and expansion. Its full-time faculty complement is 29, and two endowed visiting chairs bring distinguished scholars from around the world. In addition, the College is affiliated with the Native Law Centre, and offers an LL.M. degree which attracts promising young researchers. Each year, the College actively pursues internationally recognized scholars to present seminars on a wide array of issues, and hosts at least one international conference.
